Practice Overview

Claire is a member of the Criminal Team, having specialised in Criminal law since completion of her pupillage in 2000.

She is instructed by both the Prosecution and the Defence in a wide range of cases dealing with serious violent offences, complex dishonesty offences, serious and historic sexual offences and drug conspiracy offences. She has significant experience of high value Proceeds of Crime cases and is often instructed in cases that attract significant media attention.

Claire is recognised for her thorough preparation and clear and concise advocacy within the Court room. She is well known for being approachable both to her professional and lay clients.

She takes her responsibility as a Criminal Advocate very seriously, understanding that it can be a difficult journey for all of those involved, striving to make it as smooth a journey as possible both for her professional client and her lay client.

Claire is a Grade 4 Prosecutor and member of the Rape and serious sexual offences panel.
