

Lloyd Williams KC

Call: 1981 | Silk: 2006

"Lloyd is very responsive. He will come back to you really quickly and give you a clear answer."

Chambers UK 2025

✉ clerks@30parkplace.co.uk ☎ +44 (0)2920 398421

Lloyd Williams KC is one of the most experienced and respected Silks in Wales, known for his work in complex personal injury, clinical negligence, police actions and inquiries. His practice focuses primarily on catastrophic injury litigation involving brain and spinal trauma, often acting for protected parties and vulnerable clients.

Lloyd brings a calm authority to his cases. His approach is centred around client care, building confidence, offering clarity and ensuring seriously injured clients and their families feel fully supported throughout the process. He is known for his collaborative style, often working with senior juniors at 30 Park Place to provide clients with continuity, efficiency and cost-effectiveness.

Lloyd has appeared in many high-profile cases, including inquests into deaths in custody and industrial disasters. He is highly experienced in actions against the police and has represented both claimants and six police authorities in more than forty jury trials.

In every case, Lloyd's focus is on achieving the best possible outcome, whether that means evening consultations, home visits, or hands-on involvement with medical experts, deputies and the Court of Protection.

Expertise

Police Actions & Prison Law

Lloyd has acted in matters involving police misconduct and has represented both claimants and police authorities. His work includes assault, malicious prosecution and false imprisonment claims. He brings balance, courtroom experience and an understanding of public authority duties to this specialist area.

Clinical Negligence

Lloyd is instructed regularly in high-value clinical negligence claims, particularly those involving birth injury, delayed diagnosis and catastrophic neurological harm. Many of his clients lack capacity and require support from deputies and the Court of Protection. He is praised for his sensitive handling of complex medical and evidential issues.

Inquests & Inquiries

Lloyd has appeared in many inquests, including those concerning industrial accidents, deaths in custody and public interest incidents. He is trusted by families, public bodies and professional clients to deliver measured, expert advocacy in highly sensitive and complex proceedings. His inquest experience underpins much of his broader civil and regulatory work.

Personal Injury

Personal injury forms the core of Lloyd's practice. He specialises in catastrophic cases involving brain and spinal injuries and regularly secures multi-million-pound settlements. He is known for his client-first approach, forensic preparation, and ability to coordinate large litigation teams, including experts, solicitors and support professionals.

Appointments

- Recorder (2000)
- Assistant Recorder (1999)

Education

- Liverpool Polytechnic

Notable and reported cases

- Re W.L (2014) – A young woman suffered a high-level C5/6 spinal injury in an RTA. The case settled on a provisional basis for £8.2 million.
- Re F (2014) – A motorcyclist was rendered paraplegic following RTA. The case settled for £2.6 million gross.
- Re A.G (2013) – A middle-aged man suffered severe head injuries in a motorbike accident. The case settled for £3.3 million.
- Re G.D (2013) – A young man suffered catastrophic brain injury falling through a fragile roof. The case settled for £6.2 million.
- Re X (2013) – A young woman suffered serious injuries following premature birth. The case settled for £1.7 million.
- Re G (2012) – A young man injured in RTA suffered disabling head injuries and lacked capacity. The case settled for £2 million gross.
- Re K (2013) – This was a police misconduct case running from 1996 to 2013. It was heard over three months.
- R v RWE – Prosecuted a manslaughter arising from an industrial accident.
- R v CJ – Prosecuted a manslaughter following a workplace incident.

- Port Talbot Steelworks Explosion Inquest (2005) – Acted as lead counsel for bereaved families and injured workers.
- Targett v Torfaen Council – A claim concerning liability of local authority.
- Kingston & Others v British Steel (2004) – Lead action in a boilermakers’ vibration injury claims.
- Adams v Rhymney Valley Council [2001] PNL R 68 (CA) – A Court of Appeal case on duty of care and fire-related deaths involving window locks.